

*Peace edited by Dr. F. S. Marvin, of which a cheap edition appeared in 1933. Politics and Morals, the Mертtens Lecture for 1955, a discussion of the problem of raison d'etat raised by the teaching of Machiavelli and his disciples, was published by the Hogarth Press in the Day to Day Pamphlets. The Europe of 1935 has been swept away, but readers can bring the survey up to date for themselves. Hobbes and the Absolute State, delivered in 1940 as the annual lecture on a Master Mtnndzt the rooms of the British Academy, was published as a brochure by the Oxford University Press and included in Vol. XXV of its Proceedings. Its relevance to an Age of Dictatorships does not need to be pointed out,

G.P.G.